School Board Receives $32,000 From Estate

Members of Warren borough school board were informed at their meeting Monday evening that $32,000 had been received from a partial distribution of the estate of the late Dr. Elizabeth Beaty and $690.06 in earnings from investments of the capital. The benefactor's will provided that the bequest should be used to further public relations in Beaty junior high school.

The fund was referred to the finance committee, Dr. Carl E. Whipple, superintendent of schools, Gerald Newton, director of education and curriculum, Henry Powell, Beaty principal, and his assistant, Thomas Barratt, to arrange plans for implementing the will's provisions. Dr. Beaty provided the fund to train junior high school students to be more considerate of their elders.

Dr. Carl Whipple read a copy of a letter which was addressed to Glade twp. school board, concerning a request that the state council reconsider the decision which transferred the Hill street section to the borough's school system. Dr. Carl Seifert, deputy superintendent of public instruction and secretary of the state council on education, wrote that such a reconsideration would not be legal in the opinion of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The board acknowledged the receipt of the following state funds: $380.83 for tuition paid in 1953-54; $255.33 for tuition of a non-resident child in Warren schools by action of the Children's Aid Society; $705.80 for May special milk program; $216.36 for June special milk program; $812.16 partial payment for May lunch program. No payments were received for June lunches in accordance with an agreement that state funds would be distributed as long as the present appropriation lasted.

Approvals were granted for Gerald Newton to attend the state association for supervision and curriculum development in Philadelphia in October and the national meeting of the same group in New York City next spring. Superintendent Whipple was authorized to attend a meeting of superintendents and principals scheduled for State College next month; two district superintendents meetings - this fall in Bedford and next spring at State College; PSEA meeting in Harrisburg during Christmas vacation; national meeting of the AASA at Atlantic City in February.

Bills authorized for payments included $154.75, substitutes employed; $1,937, special services of which $1,896 went for playgrounds; $6.25, janitors' overtime; $1,061.24, monthly orders. The state equalization board announced that the market value of Warren property totals $36,875,600 which is an increase of $366,000 over last year. The assessments average 39.2 per cent of the market values.

A report was read which indicated that teachers lost 103 3-4 days for illness and 8 days for deaths and funerals. Other employees lost fourteen days for illness.

Recommendations by the textbooks, supplies and equipment committee were accepted which included orders for textbooks and similar materials at $2,533.12, and instructional supplies, after bids, for $600.70. Bills recommended for payment by the finance committee in the amount of $5,035.60 were approved.

← AND YOU HAVE TO WASH IT! Karen Ondrizek (center) flashed a stunning, and discolored smile as she surfaced after besting David Malone and Gary Baldensperger (left and right) in the final pie eating round at Lacy playground. Karen bared her teeth and proceeded with as much zest for the second wedge as she had displayed in winning the preliminary elimination. How did she do it? No one knows. Her locks fell forward as she leaned over the plate completely hiding her from the cheering audience and she was next seen, blue around the gills, licking up the crumbs and stray berries. Her claim to victory was the stained plate which rested on the table before her.

← HEAD FIRST. Participants in the pie eating contest held on Lacy playground, Tuesday afternoon, threw caution to the winds, forgot home teachings with regard to etiquette, and dove head first into paper plates on which rested pieces of blueberry pie. Approximately thirty emerged smeared but radiantly happy from three heats which determined the final round (and a second piece of pie) before the playground champion could be crowned. A giggle, an extra-long breath, or a glance at a neighbor's progress was enough to lose the round and the victor's smile.

← SUZANNE MONTAG, of Butler, has been selected recently to serve as a new case worker for the Children's Aid Society of Warren. Miss Montag has received her master's degree in social work from the University of Pittsburgh after receiving preliminary education at Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio. Suzanne is really not a stranger in Warren as she worked for the Society last summer.

← PATIENT AND STUBBORN SAM He's pulled and pushed all day, but patient Sam, the burro, never complains. Sometimes he's hard to convince but a group of youngsters have their winning ways and usually even stubborn Sam agrees that "something's gotta give - something's gotta give."

Davy Crockett camp is operated five days per week between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Bus transportation is arranged from Warren for the convenience of the parents. Further information can be received by following the instructions in the advertisement in this issue.

NEW CUMBERLAND BOUND. The July contingent of Warren County boys left for induction into the Army at New Cumberland Reception Center last Thursday evening. The new soldiers embarked from Pennsylvania station, Warren, after hearing remarks and receiving gifts from representatives of the draft board, the Salvation Army, and the American Legion. Television and Radio

By John Crosby

Now About These Songs.....

Radio, in its declining years, has turned largely to music to while away the long hours. But what music! Lately, I have been getting more complaints about this than almost anything else, especially from outside New York where they have nothing like the variety of music to pick from that we have.

As one woman pointed out, all the stations seem to be playing the same tunes. There is a reason for this. There's hardly a radio station in the country, as "Sponsor" magazine points out, that doesn't base a large part of its musical programming on the ten or twenty "most popular tunes." However, there is a large fallacy in this "most popular" line of reasoning.

For one thing, the "most popular" tunes are largely determined by sheet music and record sales. Yet it is the teen-ager who buys most of the records and the sheet es the smallest segment of the day-time audience, most of them being at school or at work during those hours. Consequently, because of this "most popular" fallacy, a lot of housewives in their thirties or forties who would dearly love to hear Andre Kostalanetz playing some old Irving Berlin numbers are treated instead to Bill Haley's Comets playing "Rock Around The Clock."

According to a survey conducted at Ohio State University, the jumpy, noisy pop stuff rates at the very bottom of the preference list of the average housewife — while rating very high on the "most popular" lists which just goes to show how meaningless that "most popular" title is.

Then there's another thing. Once a tune gets on one of these "most popular" lists, it gets dinned into our ears on the radio on one station after another so that it is presumed to be even more popular — even though you and a million other people may loathe it.

I don't know what has happened to the popular music field in the last decade or so. Back when I was a teen-ager if my rusty memory is at all to be trusted, we had our crazes for particular tunes, but many of them are still around as standards, as they are called in the trade. I somehow doubt that "Sh-Boom" will ever make it. Or "Dance With Me, Henry" or any of those so-called melodies which have noises for lyrics rather than words.

I was watching "The Hit Parade" some time ago when they slipped in — as a Lucky Strike extra — "It's a Lovely Day Today," a lovely tune by Irving Berlin. It was the only thing on the show that resembled music as I understand the word and yet it had to be an extra because it wasn't on one of those "most popular" lists. I can't believe that popular tastes have descended so low and the survey at Ohio State suggests that maybe they haven't; maybe it's just the method of counting noses that is wrong.

Speaking of music, the "Colgate Variety Hour" has instituted a series of salutes to composers which includes production numbers from hit shows with the original casts. The last one was a polite nod in the direction of Richard Adler and Jerry Ross, composer and lyricist of "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees."

Well, there were some pretty cute show numbers performed by some very good entertainers, including Gwen Verdon, Eddie Foy jr., and John Raitt. But the songs, divested of singers and chorus and sheer performance, are pretty ordinary stuff and it makes a man wonder just what is getting on Broadway these days. While the air waves have been assaulted by some terrible trash for years, show business has consistently produced the quality popular music which has gone round the world. I just hope the last citadel of quality is not beginning to be breached.

Take a song like "Near to You," one of the Adler-Ross compositions sung on that show. It sounded — to steal a phrase from the late Harold Ross — as if the boys had just gone out of their way to write a song.

Hot Stove Meeting

Twenty-three men attended last Tuesday's meeting of the Warren Chapter of the Hot Stove League. At the meeting it was decided that all batters must wear protective helmets while batting. A protest involving an umpire's judgment was brought into the meeting and heard before a committee, and the protest was disallowed.

These two items plus the treasurer's report and the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary were the only accomplishments of the two-hour long session.

Hot Stove League Results

Warren 6, Bradford 4. New laurels were garnered by the Warren Jaycees, this time in the realm of sports, as the young men defeated a Bradford softball contingent 6 to 4 as part of an inter-chapter social affair. The game was the highlight in a family program held at Wilder Field on Sunday, July 10.

Warren Jaycees were represented at the district meeting by Earl Abel, national director, and Bill Huston, local vice president. The meeting was held in North East on Sunday afternoon.

Ah, June! Fifty-five marriage licenses were issued by the office of Gurney R. Ball, register and recorder, in the Warren County courthouse during the month of June. In 1954 during the same period fifty licenses were approved.

Two Were Injured as the result of a three-car accident at 10:30 a. m., July 11, near the eastern boundary of Youngsville. Mrs. Marie Trostmillier, 63, of Erie, stopped for a "Men Working" sign at the beginning of the road construction and Truman Baldwin, 60, of Maple Heights, Ohio, pulled to a stop behind her. Leo C. Baker, 34, of Grand Valley, approached and attempted to stop but his brakes failed and he rammed the Baldwin vehicle into the Trostmillier car. Jeanette Baker, 30, suffered a severe sprain of the right foot and body bruises and shock. Leo Baker, 5, received a bruise on his head.

Erosion Has Developed in many parts of Warren County as the result of the severe electric storms of the past two weeks. Practice of conservation has been emphasized and Ralph Eckert, Warren County soil conservationist, has explained that it is also economical. Diversion terraces and grass waterways should be established to "walk off" the excess water rather than to allow it to run off. Benefits accrue from such practices and reveal themselves by decreased erosion, availability of lime and fertilizer for crop use, saving of top soil, and increased production. As additional incentives, permanent practices are deductible from income taxes and approved projects may be partially financed through the Agriculture Conservation program.

Ventilation Of Car And Store resulted when Beulah Dunkle, 609 Pennsylvania ave., E., Warren, reached down to open the front vent while progressing along Pennsylvania ave. When she looked up a car had stopped immediately in front of her car. She swerved to the right, jumped the curb, hit a steel utility pole, and proceeded to hit and break a window in Kuhn's 5 & 10 cent store. Loretta Dunkle, a passenger in the car, struck her head against the windshield, breaking the glass, but insisted she was not injured. The car suffered damages totaling $300. A new store window will cost $150.

Seven New Members were received into the Welcome Wagon Newcomers' Club at the dinner-meeting held at Jackson Height's restaurant on July 7. Thirty-five were present to hear Eugene Cease, of the Warren State hospital, speak on child psychology.

Richard Updegraff has been transferred to Langley Field, Va., where he is doing assigned research work. His correct address is Lt. R. G. Updegraff, AO-3033147-T, Box 773, Langley A.F.B., Hampton, Va.

Wrestling For Warren is being talked again and the borough is being asked if it can be staged on War Memorial Field, probably in August. We, of course, probably used the wrong word when we started this piece with the word "wrestling". It probably would be better described as a farcical exhibition of blubber tossing.

"HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN?" — NOT REALLY TWENTY YEARS". Members of the Warren high school class of 1935 gathered at the Marconi Outing club on Saturday evening, July 9, to observe their twentieth anniversary since they donned the caps and gowns. Most of the time, no doubt, was used to catch up on statistics and reminiscing of days spent under the banner of the Blue and White. Time has taken its toll, however, which is evidenced by graying temples, more conservative opinions and more solid builds.

Harriman Willing To Battle Eisenhower

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON -- There is practically no praise or support that Carmine DeSapio, New York political boss, can give his Governor, Averell Harriman, that will bother Adlai Stevenson and the Stevenson supporters so long as it is confined to New York.

It is when they find the Tammany leader in cozy conversation with Mayor Lawrence in Pittsburgh, Penn., or Paul Ziffren in California or Governor C. Frank Lausche in Columbus, Ohio, that they will worry. A travelling DeSapio, on one of those visits to brother Elks that Jim Farley made so effectively in 1930 and 1931, will become the enemy very promptly.

What DeSapio has done so far seems to politicians only normal. He has gone on record as favoring Harriman's candidacy as a favorite son, a complimentary designation only. Favorite sons are not supposed to campaign for delegates and they customarily drop out after the first ballot.

DeSapio up to now is only calling attention to his Governor as a party ornament, available in case. Harriman himself continues to say that he is for Stevenson.

People who know these men well believe that both Harriman and DeSapio ardently long for Harriman to get the Democratic nomination for President next year and, of course, be elected. DeSapio is determined to keep Harriman available and Harriman is glad that he is. Harriman will not, however, go back on his word to Stevenson and his will be the decision when and if to break away.

DeSapio has been careful to speak only for himself, but he would probably like to encourage other leaders to be equally coy about Stevenson.

Of all the Democratic possibilities for next year, Harriman knows President Eisenhower best, having served in important diplomatic and trouble-shooting capacities during the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations which saw Eisenhower in top military commands. Whether because or in spite of this, Harriman more than any other Democrat wants to carry the fight to the President personally.

Harriman wants the President held responsible for every mistake of subordinates. He seems actually to think of him — or is prepared to argue that he does — as weak and confused, the captive of political forces he cannot control.

Stevenson chooses his language carefully when he discusses the President. Harriman lambasts Ike and takes pleasure in the fact that Eisenhower, despite their long association, is extremely cool to him now when they meet. From this, the New York Governor argues that Eisenhower can't take criticism and will react badly if it is heaped on him.

This belligerence of Harriman has a certain appeal to organization politicians. So has his ability to do so much of the financing of his campaigns out of his own large funds.

With Majority Leader Johnson ill, the center Democratic party of the Senate is without a candidate. Even if he returns to the leadership, Johnson is not now available for the national ticket. The whip who is acting for him, Senator Clements, is being challenged in his own state of Kentucky by an old foe, Happy Chandler, who is trying to be Governor. Right now, it seems that the Senate is going to have to settle for second place on the ticket, not first.

THE ENTIRE FAMILY of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Scalise, who reside at 804 Pennsylvania ave., Warren, gathered to help them celebrate their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. The couple was wed in Angoli, Italy.

The children, all of Warren, are: Anthony, Peter, Mrs. Joseph Manolo, Mrs. Sam Falvo, Mrs. Ralph Noto, and Mrs. Dean Yeskey. The Scalise's have ten grandchildren.

Elks Win One But Lose Two

Warren Elks edged Salamanca, 6 to 5, but were dumped by the Ludlow Wildcats, 7 to 6, and the Bradford Bruins, 9 to 7, in three Penn-York contests during the week.

In the Ludlow game which was called at the end of eight innings because of darkness, Dallas Haight blasted out a home run for the losing Elks and Bud Terry collected 3 hits in 4 trips to the plate. Kieth Holden, Wildcat moundsman, struck out 13 Elks. Carl Falvo started on the hill for the Elks and was relieved by Fred Gray. Dallas Haight caught.

Four bunts in the ninth inning scored 2 runs for Bradford and gave them a 7 to 5 win over the Elks. Ken Thompson started on the hill for the Elks and was taken out in favor of Fred Gray late in the game. Dallas Haight caught the entire game for the Elks. Haight and Jon Pearson each had 2 hits in 4 trips to the plate to lead Warren batters.

With "Wink" Rickerson pitching 6-hit ball, the Elks broke into the win column Sunday at Salamanca with a 6 to 5 win. The Elks were leading, 6 to 1, going into the last half of the ninth inning and Salamanca put together a single, a fly-out and 2 Elk errors to push across 4 runs before they could be stopped. Dallas Haight was the Warren receiver.

Next Saturday the Elks will meet another Penn-York league opponent on the State Hospital diamond at 2 p. m.

'Cats Split Two Games

Ludlow's Wildcats edged Warren Elks, 7 to 6, and were dropped by Jamestown Marlin Rockwell, 7 to 5, in two Penn-York league games during the week.

Kieth Holden struck out 13 Elks as the Wildcats downed the Elks for the second time in the two games the two clubs have played this season. Both games have been decided by one run. John Juban was behind the plate for the 'Cats.

League-leading Marlin Rockwell scored their third win of the season over Ludlow Sunday when they pushed across 4 runs in the fourth inning and 3 runs in the sixth inning to down the 'Cats, 7 to 5, at Wildcat Park. Leftfielder Don Sundlov of the Marlin Rockwell nine boomed out a three-run home run in the sixth inning, one of the longest drives ever seen in Wildcat Park. The blast carried into deep right-centerfield. Eddie Fragale went the distance on the mound for Ludlow, and John Juban caught.

Next Sunday the Wildcats will tangle with the Jamestown Bombers at Wildcat Park, beginning at 3 P. M.

With The Swingers

Harry Barley went one extra hole and hit his drive on the second before he used up his allotted strokes in the Conewango Valley Country Club flag tournament last week. Dr. Jim Giunta was second, holing out on one extra hole. Pete Juliano ended up two inches from the hole, and Chuck Blackman was two feet away.

Low gross in tournament play at the CVCC last week was a par 36, with Chuck Blackman and Pete Juliano posting the same figure.

This week the Warren golfers are having a Calcutta with about $313 bid. This will be divided fifty, thirty, twenty among the three leaders and their buyers.

This Saturday the men will start qualifying for their club championship. Next Thursday they will have low gross and low medal tournaments. There also will be a hole in one contest.

Les Sheldon reports that a match between the Lexington and Second Avenue Sylvania plants was played on his new Kinzua course last Saturday, with forty taking part. The Second Ave. team, sparked by Sam Brobst's 85, won in a close squeak, 26 to 25. George Konkle led the Lexington boys with an 88.

Country Club golfers now have completed arrangements for a home and home match with Oil City's Wanango Club. Oil City will come here July 23. Warren will go to Oil City, August 27.

Indies Beat Sheffield

The Warren Independents turned in their first win of their young season last night by downing the Sheffield Wolverines, 12 to 1. The Indies previously had dropped their first two encounters.

Helped by triples by Ron Isackson, Dick Helmbrecht and Bill Massa in the second inning, the Indies pushed across 8 tallies then and coasted to victory. Tom Solock went the distance on the mound for Warren and struck out 14 bat-

A THREE-RUN RALLY in the fourth inning started when the first Bradford batter bunted down the first base line and beat out the throw to Elks first sacker "Wink" Rickerson in a Penn-York contest at North Warren last Saturday.

THIS PINCH-HIT SINGLE by Keane of Bradford in the ninth inning helped the Bradford Bruins to score 2 runs in the ninth and take the Warren Elks, 7 to 5.

OUT AT FIRST BASE was Elk third baseman Bobby Harrington in the fifth inning of last Saturday's Penn-York league game which Bradford won 7 to 5.

The Ladies Swing It

The Warren lady golfers will play host Friday to the Northwestern Pennsylvania Women's Golf ters. Terry and Erickson shared the catching chores for the winners. Piehuta and Mike both hurred for Sheffield and Kasaback caught.

Next game for the Indies is Friday at 6:30 when they meet Kinzua on War Memorial Field. Kinzua whitewashed the Indies, 8 to 0, in the Indies initial start of the season. Minimum Wage Limit

The demand by some groups for a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour is a little frightening to the small business man. The same is true of the guaranteed wage and other advances so quickly handed out by big business in recent confabs.

The gentlemen who want President Eisenhower to stay in office, and a major share of these are very big business, are now anxious that nothing happens to upset current prosperity. Labor knows this and has put the screws on in a very timely fashion. Big business came through.

Also talking in loud fashion are politicians who appreciate the value of the labor vote. They readily offer their support to a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour. Obviously they do not have to pay it. Though they may learn to their sorrow that they have to suffer for it.

We believe the constant inching upward of pay scales has passed the point where labor is gaining much. Every pay jump sees a corresponding price increase. In our business the cost of paper has been loping upward annually, and some times semi-annually. Everyone sees it in the price of cars. Steel goes up six dollars a ton to meet pay increases, and cars move up a hundred dollars or more.

We are not opposed to labor receiving a fair wage. This nation will be no more prosperous than is the average citizen. But we must find the courage to face what is before us. And that is the obvious fact that some day we must decide what fair share of each dollar is earned by whom.

If we are to avoid socialism we must do this under the capitalistic form of government. It will take real courage and a minimum of selfish politics.

Big business can swallow the increases. It sets the pace and earns huge profits. You find the real competition in the smaller levels, where pricing must be done to meet the pace, and the folding of many small businesses tells the story.

What frightens us is that we seem to be heading for a trio of "bigs". Big business, big labor, and big government. Any one of them can be bad medicine, and the combination is enough to revert society to a system of serfdom.

Somewhere we must draw the line, and we can't see the average politician taking on this battle which would earn him blows from all sides. But some voice must be heard and already the press of the nation is attempting to whisper the warning. Most of this is coming from the small fry in the publishing world which is facing trouble at the present pace that costs are increasing.

With radio, television, and other mediums entering the field in competition for that national advertising dollar, the little weekly and many small dailies are not finding it comfortable. A big share of them saw a reduction in their national advertising last year, and it doesn't promise to get any better.

The bigness is a real danger here, because it enters a sphere that affects our freedom of speech. Let the bigs fully take over press, radio, and television and we are apt to be in trouble.

Advertising does control much of the thinking now done by a big share of our editors, as we have pointed out and proved on many occasions. But if you doubt it, let's have a look in the horse's mouth.

Clarence E. Eldridge, executive vice president of Campbell Soup Co., told the Advertising Federation of America that advertisers have a duty to use the power given them by their millions in advertising dollars to control newspaper editorial policies. He said that editors should not be allowed to say things unfriendly to business men. This guy is quoted as saying, "We do not propose to be coerced by any phony argument about freedom of the press." His contention is that ads should be kept from those who say things that might destroy business.

If we follow this reasoning the press might as well close up shop and let the bigs run labor papers, company magazines, and government pamphlets.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible — a solid steel roof overhead — and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom — yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series — the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick — with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

be available 365 days a year. We are talking about a public pool which will accommodate the large number who can be expected to use such a facility.

One survey reveals that the smaller the community the larger the percentage to use the pool. In towns under 30,000, this can range from five to ten per cent of the population in a single day!

We don't believe a live group such as the Jaycees would have much trouble raising the funds needed for such a popular project. But there has been delay in hopes that a new high school will be built. If it is, the building should house the pool.

If a school is built on a large plot of land so that all facilities, ranging from adequate parking to a broad based recreational area, can be included, a pool would be the major attraction. Most important, it is a family participation sport.

Experience has shown that the most adequate pools are those built within a building, with one side constructed so that it may be raised to let in the sun during the summer months. This climate has only about sixty days of swimming in a year, but the inside pool stretches this all the way and gives the population full value for the investment.

The state wouldn't help with this part of a school, but the dressing and shower rooms could be a part of the regular school facilities. A special drive could be made to cover the pool cost.

There is much to be gained by building a completely new school on a large area. Needed facilities, such as a swimming pool and a public auditorium, can be included, and the public will save much money by combining such projects. Money needed to add sufficient seats to the auditorium and to construct the pool can be raised in a town as wealthy as Warren and its surrounding area, and at a great saving as compared with separate efforts.

There also is the parking problem. To build a school on the present site only would add to an already concentrated parking condition. With the many activities which a school of this kind should provide for the area, plenty of parking should be available, and in a way that actually would offer some relief to downtown sections. Schools should be looked upon as more than places in which the young people learn a few basic subjects. They also should have other advantages, and they should be equipped to serve family use for the entire community.

We are not talking of an expensive step. We are proposing real economy when you consider the needs of the coming years. A combined project is the only sensible one, and a new area will answer many of our problems.

This is not a wild dream. It is sound business and a practical investment. One that will pay dividends, physically, morally, and in cold cash.

Like To Kill Deer?

If your mind slips to the late fall months occasionally and the sport of blasting a hole in those doe deer which often are seen from the road, Warren county will be one of the leaders in the number of licenses available for the special doe season.

Three counties lead all others, Warren, Elk, and McKean. Each will be allowed 12,000 special permits for the two days, December 12 and 13. Sounds like a real concentrated bombardment shaping up. The total for the state will be about 240,000.

Other counties in the area will not have so many antlerless licenses. Erie will be allowed 4,000, Crawford will get 6,000, Venango, 4,000.

The next highest will be little Forest which will be allowed 8,000 permits. Somerset will get 7,500, and Susquehanna and Wayne, 7,000 each.

They will be available only from county treasurers at the court house of the county seat, at a price of $1.15. They will go on sale about October 1, and can be used only in the county where they are issued.

To avoid some of last year's troubles, licenses will be issued in numerical sequence upon receipt of signed applications on proper forms, with no one allowed to submit more than fifteen additional applications at one time.

(Game Commission Release) Chapman Dam Park Expanded

At meetings on October 1, 1952 and November 14, 1952 the Commission authorized the sale and conveyance to the Department of Forests and Waters of a portion of State Game Lands No. 29, in Pleasant Township, Warren County, to permit an expansion of the Department's Chapman Dam Park Project.

A survey indicated the area contained 467.9 acres and that the consideration, at $19.00 per acre, would be $8,890.10.

By deed dated January 18, 1954 the Commission conveyed the above acreage and on June 21, 1955, received the consideration, which has been deposited in the Game Fund. At its meeting on November 14, 1952, the Commission agreed to use the proceeds of this sale to purchase additional game lands.

State Highway Map Answers Sportsmen's Wishes

The new official map of Pennsylvania, issued for free distribution, will be highly acceptable to outdoors-minded people as well as motorists. The tip-off is on the cover on which are listed, under the name of Governor George M. Leader, the Department of Highways, the Department of Forests and Waters and the Game Commission.

Opened out, the map, an innovation among road guides, carries in color combinations and shadings the locations of State Game Lands, State Game Farms, State Forest

Fur Flies In Unusual Battle

The house cat, often predacious so far as small birds and animals are concerned, has its wild enemies. Recently this became evident to some people living at Mill Creek, Tioga County, who witnessed a fight between a red fox and cat. In the words of Game Protector James A. Osman: "Attention was drawn to the melee by the dust the animals raised in the brief encounter. The fox soon discovered he was getting the worse of the bargain and fled to nearby woods."

"Previous reports from a farmer nearby told of foxes taking his cats, but apparently this tabby was just too much of a scrapper for this particular fox."

Observations

By Bob Walsh

That Kinzua Dam
A current effort to appropriate funds for preliminary work on the Kinzua dam would provide the army engineers with another $100,000 with which to make definite project studies and draw up plans. This runs the total spent to $241,500!

It is one of the reasons why we constantly have urged Warren county residents to keep informed on this subject, and every chamber of commerce or civic group should keep it before them as a project about which they may want to say a few words. The sooner the better.

If a quarter of a million dollars is being spent near Kinzua, the public should be alert and informed. If this kind of money is being tossed down the drain, this is the area which should know it and be saying so to the right people. If it is groundwork for a definite project it will be one that will have a direct effect on every one of us.

The Army engineers tell this editor that they so far have received $141,500. Of this, $101,500 has been spent on preliminary studies and a survey, most of which were made before 1950. These ascertained the size and economic feasibility of the project. We have reported on much of this in previous articles, in which we disclosed the high and low water flow figures, the value of the dam in controlling these flows so that water cleanliness will be increased, and related advantages.

The remaining $40,000 has been labled for definite projects, and of this, $35,000 has been spent. Which leaves the engineers with $5,000 to spend on the Kinzua project. Naturally, they will welcome the additional $100,000 now being kicked around in Washington.

Two definite project studies have involved the relocation of the Pennsylvania and Erie railroad lines. The Pennsylvania traverses the length of the reservoir from the dam site to Salamanca. The Erie crosses the head of the reservoir.

The engineers say they also have done some work on the study of the type of dam best suited to the situation from the standpoint of engineering requirements and economy of construction, operation, and maintenance. It will be made of cement and will be about 150 feet high above the river bed. The point is in the gorge downstream from Kinzua.

Let Us Take Note

If this $100,000 comes through, the engineers no doubt will decide the exact nature of the dam, and that is an aspect of the situation about which all of us should be very much concerned. If this dam is to be built we must live with it the rest of our lives, and the future of the area will be tied very closely to its facilities. We should be deciding what we want in such a dam.

Primarily it is believed that engineers have expected to do no more than purify the water, reduce floods, and provide recreation with the dam. However, we always have advocated the inclusion of generator space. Maybe we do not want the generators today, but some time they might come in handy. Perhaps the dam should be built in such a way that its uses can be expanded and its value enhanced.

There also is the matter of navigation. If there ever is a possibility that river barges are to climb this far, we must build the dam in such a way that locks can be added or a parallel route be constructed. These potentials are a definite part of our future. We should be hep.

We have time to act, because the engineers say that the decision concerning the exact nature of the dam will take about two years of planning. But two years can slip away mighty fast, if community leaders and their constituents are not aware of what is going on and prefer to confine their activity concerning the dam to wise cracks.

Perhaps we are faced with the obvious fact that the only real answer to flood control is a combination of well kept woodlands and a series of dams. Army engineers seem certain that a dam at Kinzua is to be one of this series.

We have paid fancy prices to find other answers. Even Warren borough has shelled out a few hundred red for hydro-engineer advice. A dam is the real answer, said he. Council also decided to make a study of the situation and invited engineers to attend a meeting for a lengthy discussion. After all the words had flowed away, the fact remained that dikes would help only the immediate area and would harm those downstream. A dam would not block river transportation if the business potential were sufficient to make the costly series of locks practical, and the dam would eliminate the flood problem.

But if we want to have something to say about how that dam is to be built, the time is drawing close when the last word will be overdue. Public opinion has a major effect on what is done in such cases. Congressmen and senators will listen to the few of influence if they do not hear from the general public.

A little clamor might be helpful right now, but we believe it should be intelligent, thought out clamor, with some real vision represented behind the noise. An informed public which speaks its mind usually gets what it wants. If we know of anything we want included in that dam, now is the time to speak.

Joint School Board Has Busy Session

Melvin Keller, president of the Warren area joint committee, re-appointed Charles Frantz, Warren, and Plue Wendelboe, Conewango twp., to represent the school officials on the board of the Warren Public Library. The meeting was held on Monday evening of this week.

The authority for Beaty construction, based on the average daily membership for 1954-55, was approved at $55,578.50, half of which is due for payment on December 1, and the balance on March 1. The borough's share was established as $34,807.42.

The Committee adopted driver education textbooks. Max Nemmer was hired to teach high school English and German and Mrs. Marguerite Erickson was employed on a part-time basis to teach Miss Spencer's Spanish classes during her absence.

Approval was granted for Mr. Powell and Mr. Passaro to attend state and national principal's meetings at Harrisburg in October and Chicago in February as well as a meeting at State College in August. Superintendent Whipple was authorized to serve as chairman of visiting committee for evaluating the Cameron County high school at Emporium on April 10-11-12.

Bills approved for payments included $580, substitutes' salaries; $598.88, special services; $318.88, janitors' overtime; $1,855.18, monthly orders. Upon recommendation of the finance committee, approval was granted the payment of accounts totaling $2,828.01.

A special report on the cafeteria revealed that $40,730.04 was paid for food during the past school term and $12,061.80 for labor. Total lunches prepared amounted to 99,470, and 258,956 half pints of milk were consumed.

OPERATION "BIG SPLASH." Following the announcement over the public address system that all contestants could enter the wading pool and chase the fish, this scene developed. Carp, perch, and trout gave the youngsters a merry run-

JULY PRESCRIPTION: A dip in the pool at Camp Birdsall Edey each day. And believe me, the Girl Scouts are following this advice to the letter. In this instance, Leona Mead, Janice Decker, and Judy Nelson of Clarendon, swim under the instructions of Peggy McCar-

PROUD IS HE. The white peacock at the Wigwam has decided to spread his big white tail, after keeping customers of Clyde and

Wise Words From Law Save Taxpayers Dollars

By Lewis Crippen

The "cat and mouse" game between assessors and potential taxpayers should terminate if taxing bodies will enforce the provisions granted to them by laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Forever should be stilled the whispered accusation of one citizen toward another that he is not sharing in the burdens of governmental costs. A close look at the facts should be sufficient to cause the most tax wary to re-evaluate the wisdom of attempting to avoid detection by the local assessor.

During the summer months, a group of harrassed individuals (one in each political sub-division of our county) spend their "free time" in an unappreciated service to their communities. Armed with the knowledge that they have been duly elected by their neighbors and under a strict oath of office, these forward units of the tax army take the brunt of public opinion as they attempt, with varying degrees of success, to establish relative values of real estate and to list all adults of the community with their occupations. Vacations, unusual work schedules, lack of sufficient time, and neglect by both the assessed and the assessors often lead to complications which encourage the evaders and disgust the civic minded.

On June 30, 1951, the Public School Code of 1949, Section 680 (b), was amended to include the following words of warning: "Every resident or inhabitant in any school district, upon attaining twenty-one years of age, and every person twenty-one years of age or over becoming a resident or inhabitant in any school district, shall, within twelve months after the happening thereof, notify the proper assessors of his becoming of age or becoming a resident or inhabitant. Any person failing, within said period, to notify the assessors of the school district within which he resides, shall, in addition to the tax levied by such school district, be liable to such school district in a penal sum equal to such tax." Strict enforcement of this provision would certainly prove to be a deterrent to the sly and the boastful who demand so much from the tax dollars they never produce.

Tax notices are distributed to the populace near the end of July with a sixty-day period immediately following during which time the taxed may receive a two percent discount for prepaying the statement which is actually due December 31 and is for the concurrent calendar year. The assessments are made one year in advance which might relieve your mind to realize that upward adjustments by the assessor during his visit this summer will not be discernable until the 1956 notices arrive. A provision has been made, however, for the assessor to add additional names to his roster for the current year if conditions warrant the insertions.

Here is your problem. The law requires that you pay taxes and stipulates that you may be fined 100 percent of the levied school tax for not reporting your qualifications to the assessor. It is certainly possible, if you neglect to report your residence in the community, that you may be added to the tax list between the July 31 and September 30, (or later) decreasing or entirely eliminating the two percent discount period.

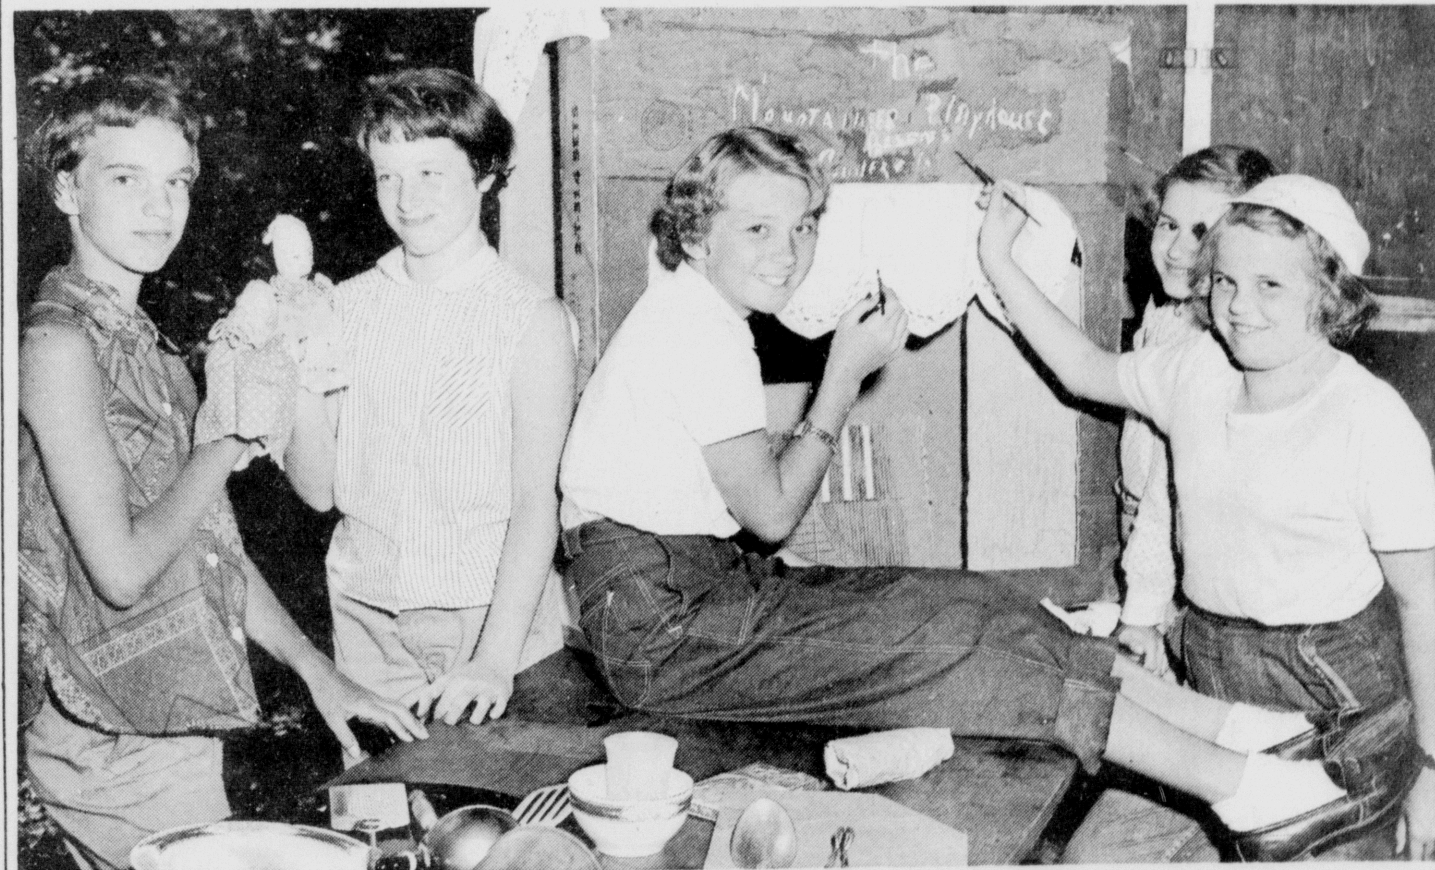

According to the law, you can not avoid paying taxes which seems to illustrate the old saw "there is nothing certain but death and taxes." You will save money if you call your local assessor and advise him that you should be on his list. Do it today - July 31 is just around the corner.

K.P. IN ATTRACTIVE SETTING. Peeling spuds is peeling spuds but in the open and with pleasant companions it loses much of the drudgery. These Sheffield girls, Carol helps to relieve the pains. A peppy appetite, inspired by an energetic program, makes the K.P. seem effortless.

IT IS WELL TO KEEP YOUR HAND IN even if you never expect to make a career of the entertainment world. These Sheffield girls who are camping at Birdsall Edey this week registered no objections when they were chosen to prepare the puppet show rather than to wield the paring knife over the potatoes.

Mary Ann Rossetti, and Judy Blair practice the antics as Suzanne Elinski, Karen Bortnyck, and Judy Sleeman (left to right) put the finishing touches on the stage. When this show is produced, if past experiences are any criterion, audiences comprised of young and old will enjoy the presentation.

AMERICA'S "SAGEBRUSH" REMBRANDT

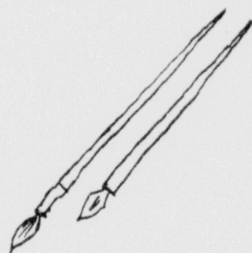

TYPICAL ACTION. This is one of William R. Leigh's action pictures of the old west. It is called Nip and Tuck. Leigh was exceptionally good at depicting the outdoors and the action in it. He accompanied Carl Akeley to Africa in 1926 and the Carlisle-Clark expedition there in 1928, each time collecting material for the Akeley African Hall in the American Museum of Natural History. Some of his finest work is immortalized in the backgrounds of the African Hall.

ONE OF OUR GREATEST. The works of a leading American artist, the late William R. Leigh, who died March 11 of this year after eighty-two years of painting, may be seen in the Chautauqua Woman's Club, where they will be exhibited until August 21.

Though Leigh has been classed as a western painter, and as such holds his own with Remington and Russell, his work actually has great variety, including such historical pieces as the Midnight Ride of Paul Revere and Pocahontas.

He started painting at six, right after the Civil war, yet did some of his greatest work after he was eighty, such as the mural-sized canvasses shown in the Chautauqua exhibition. He had taken many honors before he was forty, and it was not until that age that he went west and was inspired by the beauty of that area to do many paintings, some as well known as Custer's Last Fight. Others are stills of the western panorama.

SANCTITY OF MOTHERHOOD. This painting earned William R. Leigh the Gold Medal of Honor of the Hudson Valley Art Association, awarded posthumously. In it the newly risen sun casts rose-pink horizontal rays across the hazy mesa of the Navahos. The rainy season has filled the rock pockets with cool, clear water. The young mother has brought her first-born the summer hogan, which always faces the rising sun, and is preparing him for the morning bath.

She has never heard of Christ. She has never conceived of a benevolent God, for the medicine men have talked only of spirits, ghosts, demons -- all objects of fear.

The artist makes you wonder if it is instinct, is it mere animal urge that illuminates, that sings in her, that makes her one with the vast mystery of life? Whatever it is, in all this world of unanswerable questions, it is the loftiest thing, and the most beautiful.

TVA Inspires World's Underprivileged

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON. -- Premier U Nu of Burma included a visit to TVA in his itinerary in this country.

But that's hardly news. In fact it's routine at Knoxville and in the Tennessee Valley Authority region whose inhabitants have become accustomed to a continual procession of visitors from all over the world. Nearly every official of a foreign government who comes to the United States puts TVA at the top among sights he wants to see while here.

Why? Because TVA is the one thing in our country about which people everywhere know about.

This is because of what TVA has done for the land and the people of a large area of our nation. To visitors from other lands it is something typically American, for it represents the spirit of originality and of the pioneering to find new techniques to get the most out of our resources for the most people. It is a new frontier we have opened here when our old frontiers were closed. It is the essence of what we proudly call the American dream.

This particular American idea has been, and is being, copied all over the world. It is, in truth, the model for 18 other river development projects in foreign countries, while 20 others embody various features of TVA. But, more than that, our government is actively sponsoring TVA's and helping to finance them as part of our foreign aid program. That is a most effective way of helping other people to help themselves by developing their own water resources.

Only recently our government advanced a 20-year loan of $12,000,000 to the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa to help that government finance a 411-foot high dam across Takekan Creek, a tributary of the Tanshui River, at Shihmen about 30 miles southwest of Taipei. When completed (preliminary work began this week) it will irrigate 136,500 acres directly and indirectly and furnish 120,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity annually. It will store 250,000,000 cubic feet of water and help to control floods. The Chinese Nationalist government is investing $26,000, INSTANTANEOUS DEATH came to Charles Fehlman, 18, of Pittsfield early Sunday morning when he crashed into a tree in Pittsfield a short distance from his home. The victim, traveling alone, was driving a 1954 Ford Victoria and returning home from an engagement with an instrumental trio at the Riverside Hotel with which he played an accordion.

The car slipped off the road on the left shortly after making the sharp turn from Route 6 and traveled for some distance before it struck a huge tree located in front of the Weldon home. The terrific impact pushed the motor back nearly to the front seat and within a few minutes the entire machine was swirling with flames. The charred body was removed by Williams & Son employees and taken to the Young Funeral Home. This picture was taken after the car had been removed to Williams garage. The terrific heat caused the frame to twist when being pried away from the tree.

the TVA board.

A businessman, Eric Johnston, a two-term president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was delegated by President Eisenhower to negotiate for creation of another foreign TVA -- that proposed for the Jordan River system in the Holy Land.

These examples show that people in other countries are, indeed, familiar with TVA.

But this idea which has become such a valuable item of export, making friends for us in many parts of the world, is under a cloud in this country. Not only is TVA itself under attack, as we know, but a fight is being made against extension of the TVA pattern to other great watersheds still undeveloped, such as Hell's Canyon along the Idaho-Oregon border, as well as to other links in the Columbia River system.

Naturally this is hard for people elsewhere to understand. That explains the inquiries here from correspondents of foreign newspapers who at the instruction of their editors back home now are beginning to explore the attitude of the Eisenhower Administration which represents such a change from the previous Roosevelt-Truman Administrations. They are giving special attention to the complicated Dixon-Yates contract, now under investigation by a special Judiciary subcommittee headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.).

We are beginning to learn the truth of what one world traveler, associate justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, said: "It may come as a surprise to many Americans that their Tennessee Valley Authority program is not only well known by countless Asiatics, even in the remotest reaches of that continent, but has come to mean to them a symbol of a hopeful new way of life for themselves and their children."

THE AWFUL TRUTH! LeRoy the rider, discovered that the pictures of Davy Crockett spurring his horse to greater speed were easier in the imagination than in reality. Although he can not kick up too much dust with the slow speed with which Timmy leads the steed, LeRoy can no doubt visualize engagements with Indians, killing b'ars, patching liberty bells, and dumfounding congress as he wends his way around the fenced-in enclosure at the Davy Crockett camp near Russell. The horseback riding is one of the favorites of the day camp attenders but takes its turn with dramatic and art training and other forms of entertainment.

Council Accepts Schofield Land

The twenty-five acres of wooded land on Tanner Hill, at the head of Liberty st. became borough property Monday evening when council resolved to accept the gift offered by L. S. Schofield. The land is a part of the Kate S. Schofield estate.

Councilman Carbon went on record opposing the acceptance, as did Councilman Johnson. Carbon warned that if we are so tight for money that we hesitate about buying 500 feet of fire hose to meet minimum firewriter requirements he couldn't see how we could ask an already overworked parks and playgrounds department to assume more land to maintain.

Council had a hundred per cent attendance for the first time in many months. It approved sewer assessments for Hill st., $978.71, and Monroe st., $2,937.58. And it learned that the paving program has proceeded to North South st. Finished are Dartmouth, Central, and South South.

Only half of Parker will be done at a time to permit free access for Sylvania construction trucks. Engineer DeBell also suggested a white line down the center of the newly paved railroad right-of-way on Fourth to prevent it from becoming a speedway.

Councilman Painter asked for permission to buy $900 worth of 2 1-2 inch fire hose to provide the five hundred feet necessary to bring Warren's department up to minimum standards. Councilman Emery said this money was not in the budget. Borough Manager Geracimos said there was only $200 left in the fire department's budget. However, after some councilmen had asked what would be saved if a major fire occurred, Emery said the money might be found, but the advertising for bids should be delayed a few days.

Councilman Painter obtained approval of amendments to the parking regulations which will prohibit parking on the south side of Crescent st. near the fire station, and will provide a taxi stand on Pennsylvania ave. near the Busy Bee. Playground Director Fred Bell reported that the play areas are being well used and that Park Superintendent Reier is doing a good job of providing facilities. He said that many young people are taking part in the program of arts and crafts. Special events this week will be a pie eating contest on every playground, and a Huck Finn day in Crescent Park.

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY would make all the little Davy Crocketts sad indeed. Much entertainment is provided, however, and the leaders have stated that parents have expressed pleasure over the new attitudes their children have demonstrated after participating in the group activities. Softball, badminton, the wading pool, and other games challenge the plays, art work, and riding for the most enjoyment.
